

Education Facilitator

As a WC&S Education Facilitator, your primary role is to provide evidence-based violence prevention curricula in high school environments. This role will disseminate information on teen dating and domestic violence and will lead psycho-educational groups in schools. You will assist in the evaluation of school programs and will implement training programs for school personnel and other professionals about the effects of teen dating violence. The role is co-located between the WC&S office and school environments (based on school operations).

WC&S is a comprehensive domestic violence program serving over 8,000 adult and child survivors of domestic violence annually & facilitating intervention groups to over 500 men who batter. All staff learn about and support the organization's mission, guiding principles, and values, as well as the tenets of Women's Center Business System (WCBS), and are sensitive to cultural and workplace harmony and infusing principles of Sanctuary (a model for providing trauma-informed care) into their daily interactions with clients and co-workers. This role provides you with the opportunity to showcase your skills, working with a diverse group of teens and educational professionals, as well as the ability to contribute to the organization's mission in a variety of ways. If you are motivated, comfortable facilitating educational programs with teens, passionate about preventing domestic violence, sensitive to issues of diversity, and excited to be a positive role model then we are eager to hear from you. WC&S will offer you an environment that provides endless opportunities to advance your knowledge and skills.
